

A Vision of The Thrice Greatest.

by Jesse Lee Alexander

Wayoftheknight@gmail.com

The crow sits upon me whilst I ponder what is this Matter? What came to me next was a vision of the Thrice Greatest;
both man and woman king and queen, and with a booming voice undertones of both sexes it said to me...

Your work is completed, you have been through Hell fire, and had your soul ripped apart you have dissolved your impurities, and the spring of life now emanates within you. You have Joined Sol & Spirit into one You have done the deed becoming the divine, though you do not reside in heaven, for you I let the light shine, you looked up to the stars and seen the truth that is, that which is above is like that which is below, and that which is below is like that which is above.

Now I say to you I am Hermes Trismegistus the Thrice Greatest, now go in peace my child, your work is completed.